Aim

The aim of the staff of the '48 SHIELD has been to link your memories with ours and thus to present a record of the events which have put interest and excitement into our year. We have tried to recall all the occasions you have enjoyed--and a few you haven't! If we have summed up this school year as it appeared to you, we have accomplished our purpose. We hope you enjoy reading THE SHIELD as much as we have enjoyed assembling it.

THEME

In this momentous year:

at school and elsewhere discussions have arisen on how to achieve permanent peace and still maintain a free and independent America.

throughout the nation many of America's most revered documents, on tour aboard the Freedom Train, have placed new emphasis on our heritage and aspirations.

So-----we believe that our using the Freedom Train and what it means in a reawakening of values is particularly appropriate this year.

SUPT. HUGH S. BONAR

DEAN ROWLEY

Mr. Elmer Rowley was born in Will County, Illinois in 1909.

He attended Will County Grade and High Schools, Joliet Junior College where he received the Robert Adam Award. He then attended the University of Illinois and the University of Chicago where he received his Master's Degree in Education.

He taught in Bloom Township High School, McKinley High School, and the Joliet Township High School in the agriculture department.

He is Treasurer of the Northeastern Division of Illinois Education Association. He was appointed to the position of Assistant Superintendent and Dean of the Joliet Junior College at Joliet on July 1, 1947.

SUPT. HUGH S. BONAR

Hugh S. Bonar was born at Mount Morris, Illinois, and educated in the public schools of that community. He attended Mount Morris College, The University of Chicago, Columbia University, Northwestern University, and the University of Wisconsin. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Accounts, Bachelor of Arts, and Master of Arts.

Having taught in elementary school, high school, and university, he has specialized in school administration for many years. For sixteen years he served as superintendent of schools at Manitowoc, Wisconsin.

Active in state and national education associations as well as civic organizations, he has shared the public platform with many associates and prepared articles for many professional journals.

During World War I he left college to enlist in the radio company of the 311th Field Signal Battalion. During World War II he responded to a call to help industry keep steel rolling and served as manager of industrial relations for a Chicago steel corporation. During this period he served as a panel member of the Sixth Regional War Labor Board and taught courses in management at Northwestern University. Now back in the profession to which he has devoted so many years, he hopes to give what he calls "the best years of my life" to help keep America strong through education.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Yes, we've done it and we're pretty proud of ourselves, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-eight. Hours of study and much serious thought have brought us to the diploma day; and we're all set to go out into the world, some of us to jobs and others to a college elsewhere to complete our educations. We've had loads of fun too in our two years here, and the many activities we have participated in have rounded out our days in J. J. C. The steadily increasing enrollment has presented many problems which were all met and solved with our efficient faculty, administration, and student council. We represent a fine part of our generation, and with the extensive training offered by the extensive curriculum, we know that we will meet the future with chins up and eyes bright.

Our social calendar has been chuck full of dances, athletic events, and socials.

We are leaving now, but stored in our hearts are the memories of basketball games, the thronging halls, the Rec Room, the Smoke Room, euchre games, the Shingle and lunch room, and the gab fests held by our friends to be brought out later in life to be remembered and smiled at and to be put back again in our treasure of recollections. We had our problems and our share of worry, but, looking back, we know that what we take with us makes all these fade in comparison with those glorious other things which have made these two years ones to be remembered.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is made up of the officers of both the Freshman and Sophomore classes, a representative of W. A. A., the Blazer, the Shield, and the Choir. Its purpose is to bring about closer co-operation between student body and faculty, to direct social activities, to deal with current college affairs, and to recommend the disbursement of the activity fund.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: Chuck Repenn, president; Wesley Tomsheck, vice president; and Jane Ross, secretary.

The annual fall and spring formals, the college picnic, and an informal dance are the major activities sponsored by this group. At the fall formal a queen to reign over the ball was elected after a heated contest.

One of the projects accomplished was the securing of a Smoke Room for the college boys. This was greatly appreciated by the male collegians.

The Student Council has aided greatly in supervising school activities, securing greater resources, and assisting with school administration.

THE SHIELD

Well, kids, here it is and we hope you like it, because we on the staff have kept you in mind all the time, trying to get into this year's yearbook just what we thought you wanted to see. We've made every effort to depict for you the various scenes of J. J. C.: the deafening silence of the library, the hub-bub of the halls, the laughter of the rec-room, the tense air of the exam days, the fun-filled social activities, and the spirit of the athletic field and floor. It's all yours, and may it always be a valued volume containing memories worth remembering for all of you.

The staff and its faculty advisor have worked hard to get the Shield to you as soon as possible and as perfect as possible. We believe that you will enjoy thumbing through the pages years from now and seeing the faces of friends that you had forgotten. And we hope that with their faces will come back all the pleasures you shared with this one or that one.

Miss Lola Bane was the faculty advisor for the Shield this year, but unfortunately for us she is leaving us for study at the University of Illinois. Best wishes for success and happiness, Miss Bane; perhaps you, too, will want to keep a copy of the yearbook which you put so much time and effort into for a reminder of your time spent here at J. J. C.

Ring—Ring—there's the bell for the end of the 16th period, a joyous sound on any day, but it sounds especially on the Fridays that the students know that there's a Blazer waiting for them in their lockers. So the mad rush begins, and if you hear someone scream in anxiety, you can be certain that by some sad mistake, he didn't get his Blazer this week.

Bob Smolich did the photography work for the Blazer this year.

Miss Lola Bane was the Blazer faculty sponsor both semesters. She is also the college journalism teacher.

Last but not least, we want to thank Mr. Donald Imig and Mr. Herbert Warfel in the print shop for their indispensable services.

THE CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir, with Paul Lester as director, is that organization which emits those lovely strains heard in the hall every Tuesday and Thursday if you should happen to stroll down past the choir room during the noon periods. The members have worked hard this past year to present programs in the Music Festival, The College Assemblies, and the Mothers' Day Concert.

No, it wasn't all work with a social calendar of a roller skating party and a picnic. And, tell me, who minds a few ants or a couple bruised elbows when such fun-loving people get together for a bang-up good time? Besides this, they visited the Hines Hospital twice to sing, once at Christmas Time and again on April 11.

The Aeolians with Andy Krawetz as director have broadcast on the radio and have appeared in several other programs.

The officers for this year were: President, Wesley Tomsheck; Vice President, Andy Krawetz; Treasurer, Barbara Anderson; Secretary, Mary Lou Robinson; Librarians, Joan and Jeanne Allen; Publicity Chairman, Mike Setina. The choir consists of forty-eight members, each receiving an hour's credit for participation in the organization.

We know that the satisfaction of a job well done and the memory of good times will remain with us for a long long time.

MEN'S COLLEGE Y

When the gang gets together, they really get things done. Take for instance those glorious skating parties and those grand mixers. Yes sir, the Men's College Y really keeps us buzzing trying to keep up with what they've got cooking.

At the beginning of the year the officers were chosen as usual. The officers elected were: Ed Buthala, president; Harry Schoch, vice president; Jack Ley, secretary; and Ray Zelko, treasurer.

The big social event of each year for this group is their annual College Y Date Banquet, a formal dinner-dance held in the Y dining room and limited to members and their dates only.

Hey, guys, how about those aches and pains resulting from the skating parties? Was it worth it? You know it was, and so does everyone else who attended. Honestly, everyone crawled out of his shell and threw away inhibitions and let loose and had a rip-roaring good time.

A game wasn't a game without a mixer afterwards, and these fellows did their part in this respect. And those wonderful orchestras—what—oh, I'm just dreaming. The juke box was fine!

Immediately after beginning their meetings the Sophomore Girls Y selected their officers, so they could get right down to work. The results of the election were: Mary Ann Davis, President; Jeanne Donoghue, Vice-president; Charleen Squire, Secretary; and Betty Pelias, Treasurer. The meetings were held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Y. The club sponsored services for a needy family in our community at Christmas and gave several parties for the sightseeing classes at F. E. Marsh School.

The social events consisted of bingo, parties, donut sales, mixers, and a college dance.

The girls feel they have accomplished a lot in their club, and the fun they had was indescribable. The whole college had wonderful times at the famous mixers the club gave. And those bingo parties were swell times too, even if someone didn't bingo every five minutes. Everyone was a pretty good loser at that!

Leaving college always wrenches the hearts of all students, but the wonderful get-togethers like the Y meetings are the things that we miss most.

Every Wednesday evening at 7:00 the Ci-Fi-Y, or the freshman girls' Y, met down at the YMCA. Mrs. Gross sponsored the group.

The girls collected toys to be given to needy families at Christmas time and contributed to the World Fund.

Who has more fun than the Ci-Fi-Y girls? What with interesting lectures from Mr. Givens of the College faculty and visitors giving exhibits of their hobbies—remember those darling little wax miniatures of food that one of our visitors showed us? Then there were those wonderful skating parties, splash parties, dances, and feasts.

THE STUDENT FEDERALISTS

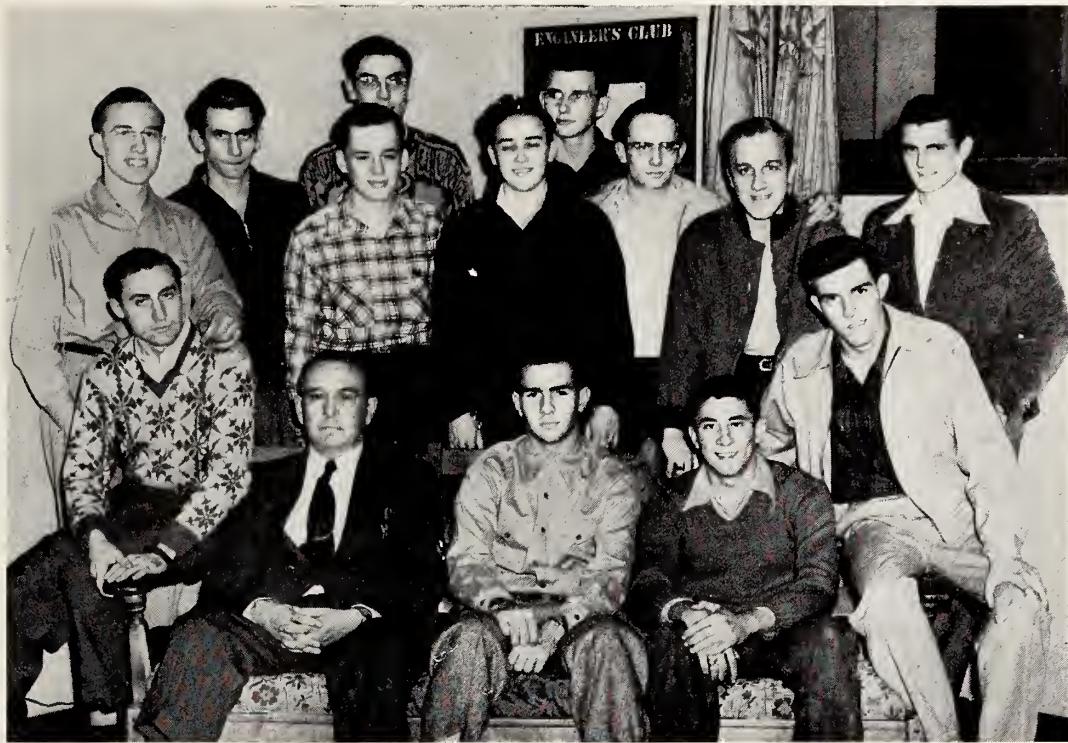

Organized in the spring of 1947, a group of students, called Student Federalists, have worked actively since that date towards a goal they believe will result in a lasting world peace. That goal is a federal world government brought about by strengthening the United Nations Organization. Throughout the past two semesters, members of the organization could be seen at almost any time grouped with other students discussing some phase of world government.

As a school project, the Student Federalists sponsored a movie for the benefit of student relief in devastated areas and sent the proceeds to the World Student Service Fund.

During the second semester, a debate was held in a college assembly with two of the members on the affirmative side of the subject, "Is World Federation The Path To Peace?"

Officers for both semesters were the same: President, Lloyd Howerton; Vice President, Stanley Jeriha, and Secretary, Robert Smolich. The Student Federalist faculty sponsor is Miss Elizabeth Barns, social studies teacher.

THE ENGINEERS' CLUB

The Engineers' Club, a relatively new J.J.C. organization, is composed chiefly of students who plan on entering the engineering profession upon graduation from college. The club has as its main purpose the promotion of interest in the many subjects relating to engineering. Although the club is still young, interest is growing as the membership increases. The club's past agenda has included many educational movies and lectures pertaining to engineering subjects with several field trips added for variety.

The club's future is expected to be very successful as a brilliant start has already been made toward recognition in the community. Recently it has finished its constitution and the ball has begun to roll as far as social activities are concerned. Many parties and dances are being planned for next year.

The club has, at present, approximately 30 standing members. The retiring officers for this semester are: John Altenhoff, president; Roy Botozech, vice president, and Mike Sanfilippo, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. D. W. Castle, engineering instructor, has been the sponsor for this year and has done a marvelous job in promoting interest in the club.

Mac Carson, Stan Kucharz, Ronald Cook, John Belom, Bill Werner.

RADIO FORUM

JJC's Radio Forum, now in its second year, has provided an excellent opportunity for institutional publicity as well as public service to the community. More than this, it has given its participants a chance to gain the experience and confidence necessary for radio broadcasting.

The Forum was directed again this year by Miss Elizabeth Barns of the social science department. The technicalities and minute details were in the capable hands of Miss Erma Smith, college speech instructor. Scripts were prepared by the students well in advance of the program date and were then presented for criticism and approval.

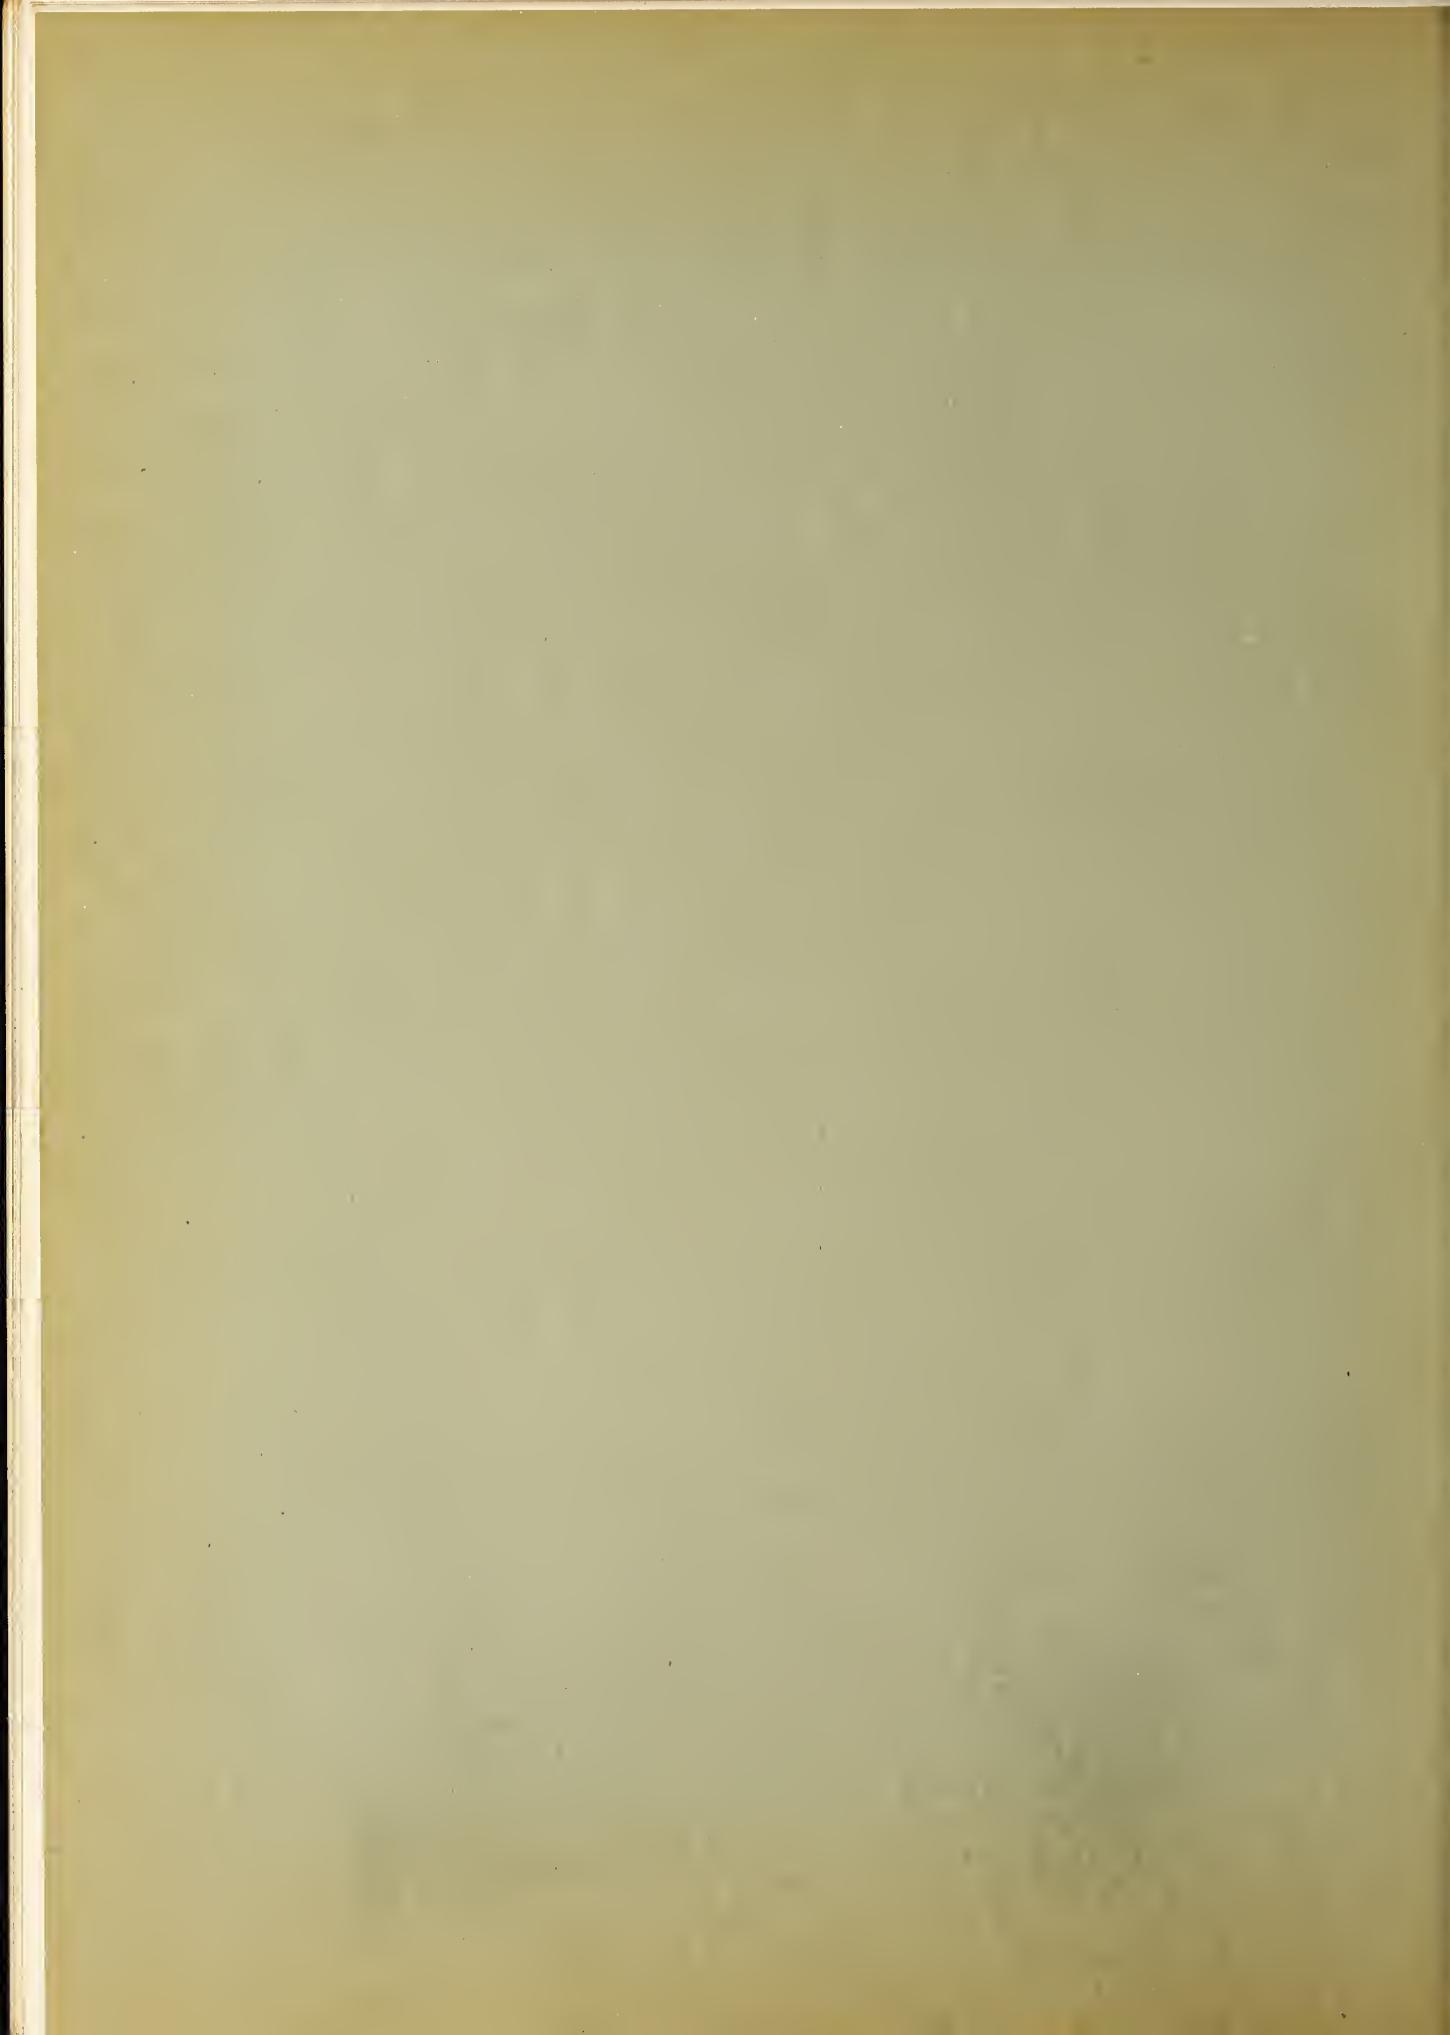

A variety of programs was offered by the different student groups. Excerpts from "The Blazer" composed an entertaining program by journalism students under Miss Lola Bane. Mr. Henry Simpson's business law students gave a dramatic portrayal of a court trial. Two programs were presented by Miss Catherine Wood's oral interpretation classes. Miss Smith's speech 1 class held a discussion on experiences while in military service. Health was the topic of Mr. Harry Givens' group, and the economics class, guided by Mr. C. O. Burden, aired its views on the business cycle.

Popular among the young women of Joliet Junior College as an extracurricular activity is the Women's Athletic Association, better known as WAA.

The activity fee automatically makes a girl a member of WAA, and she can participate in as many sports as she wishes. Some of the sports offered are: swimming, volleyball, baseball, and tennis.

Co-ed noon sports, co-ed bowling, and co-ed riding have been under the sponsorship of WAA.

Highlights in the WAA social season of the past year have been the annual Mother-Daughter Christmas Tea, the sport dance, "Mardi-Gras", and a traditional hay-rack ride.

Do you die to look?
Jane Sigwalt

The place won't be the same without them—the library, we mean, those old faithfules, we mean, too, Frank Osborne, John Ley, Bill Dragovan, Betty Pelias, Joan Smith, and Doris Bridge. Too late now, but we had hoped that maybe someday that old die-hard Char Anderson would enter the cloisters, but such was not to be.

Speaking of Char brings us to the Rec room, (where else!) and that stand-by who was in there always and forever—Jim Lavelly. Also those sharps, Phil Ruddy, Louise Buchanan, Jeanne Donoghue, Kay Lambrecht (although, on occasion Kay did step into the library), Jane Ross and Joyce Peterson. It was the fiendish mixed games (of cards) that made things rough. Get Jay Criche or Frank Pullman, or Jim Spangler or Larry Robinson playing against you. Well! Once was enough. A few trusting souls did try to study in the Rec room. Chuck Repenn seemed to make a success of it, so did Jim Hrechko and Judy Duston. Some of our more up and coming students (?) were often found in positions of repose and relaxation, on any couch (they preferred not to sleep on the Rec room floor unless absolutely necessary). Bob Tierney, Dick Donahue, Boots Burthala, and Bob Radakovich were among those frequently found in very candid poses.

We just can't overlook that convention at the monitor's chair next to the college office. Every day—some people Jack Cassidy, George Eberhard, Tom and Dick Williams, and Bob Mitchell. It's probably too late now to find out what they were talking about, but it would have been nice —————.

My knowledge of the smoker was gained by painstakingly peeking through the vents at the bottom of the door. (I've got the black eyes neatly pasted in a scrapbook). The roll call goes something like this: Anast, George; Bruce,

OFF MOMENTS

Tom; Burian, Rich; Campbell, Bob; Crownover, Tom; Feehan, Joe; Merrill, Jim;—well, you get the idea.

There were certain susceptible characters who couldn't resist the smell of food at 10:30 in the morning, so they spent their time in the cafeteria. You could usually find Fred Lureman, or Bill Jacques, or Carol Johnson, or Barb Bennett, or Mac Carson, or Elinor McAlloon, or Stan Shepard just wasting hours stuffing in food (what a life!).

Downstairs again—we can't forget our marvelous choir. Bill Rutter, Kim Breen, Pinkie Slocum and Howie Marsh certainly worked at being the backbone of that organization. Can't overlook Andy Krawetz, though, he certainly kept busy. Elaine Ott, Jackie Reichman, and Betty Lou Taylor helped round (or is the word "curve"?) out the feminine side of the choir.

Can't miss the "G" shop—it's always been first—or last—around here. Where else could you find Bill Ross, or Lorraine Kuzma or Bernie Egan (arguing like always), or Jean Magill?

Every Wednesday night the College "Y" clubs sounded forth. Sophomore girls "Y" would have been lost without president Mary Ann Davis and that able singer Maxine Cohen. While waiting to become sophomores, the Freshman Girls "Y" club struggled through with the aid of Bev Rentschler, Marilyn Pauly, and Martha Magill. Can't forget the men (but then, we never try!). Naturally, being men, everything ran smoothly—especially when pushed by Bill Schiek, or Bert Neill or Ray Zelko or "Scrunch" Machak.

Another ten years and we'll all be famous, and when we are, it will be fun remembering the people, places and problems we knew at Joliet Junior College.

BASKETBALL

The Joliet Junior College basketball team, coached by James A. Rickhoff, did not finish on the very top of the Illinois Junior College Basketball Conference, but it was regarded as being one of the strongest teams in the conference.

Coach Rickhoff had very little material to choose from at the beginning of the season. After graduation, he had to build a new team around Tony Gutierrez, his only returning letter-man, and Gene Stevens, Ken Geuther, Don Muhlig, and Jack Pearson, his only returning reserves. This was probably the main reason for the team's not being as strong as it was in past years.

The opening game of the season started the Wolves off to a hard-fought win against Morgan Park. In their second game, they came back in the final quarter to win against Wright by a 57-49 margin.

North Park, in the third game, handed Joliet its first defeat for the season by a 66 to 54 count. The winner's height advantage was the deciding factor, as they controlled the ball off both back-boards.

In their second game with Wright, Joliet emerged victorious again with a 59 to 49 count. The game was a see-saw battle between both teams in the first half with the Wolves ahead 30 to 22 at the half. JJC maintained the lead in the second half, and Wright didn't threaten once.

COACH RICKHOFF

BASKETBALL

The Wilson game proved a crushing defeat for Joliet. With the Wolves putting up a hard fight all through the last half, the Wilson powerhouse continued to roll, and the game ended with Wilson 25 points ahead.

The next three games Joliet lost to Morton, La Salle, and Thornton. Of these three games the latter was the most exciting, because it resulted in a hot overtime battle.

On January 6 the cagers lost to Herzl, 59-52 on the Chicagoan's floor. This was the fifth consecutive set-back for the Wolves.

Then, on January 10, they snapped out of their losing streak and trounced Rockford Extension Illinois Tech, 90-45, with "Gus" Donbier's 21 points leading the way.

They made it two straight on January 13, as they whipped Evanston 69-35 on the home court. Tony Gutierrez's 18 points was high for the evening.

It was three in a row January 15, as the Purple and White conquered La Grange, 61-48. Gutierrez again paced the team with 18 points.

The streak was broken on January 17 as the Wolves fell to Muskegon, Michigan, a four year school, 80-60. The game marked the initial appearance of Tom Williams, who entered in mid-semester. Williams came through for 16 points, high for the night.

The team rebounded to winning ways on January 19 as a weak Morgan Park fell before a scoring deluge, 79-61. Donbier was "red hot", scoring ten buckets to win honors.

On January 22, North Park invaded the home floor, bringing with them an unblemished string of victories. Although the Rickhoff-men jumped to an early game lead, the superior height of the Parkers finally took its toll, Tony Gutierrez—one of those rare cage stars who goes on shining year after year. Tony completed six years of school play by leading the team's scoring as he garnered 325 points from his guard position.

Clare Warning—this lanky freshman should be one of the top scorers next season. Played regular forward the first semester and alternated at center the second semester. Improved a little each game to finish the season with 121 points.

Dick Williams—a 5' 8" freshman with an uncanny ability to snare rebounds. "Eli" teamed beautifully with Gutierrez at guard to form the nucleus of the smoothest ball handling team in the conference. His 205 points was second best on the squad.

Tom Williams—entered school at mid-semester and immediately took over a forward spot. This left-hander's tip-in shots pulled many and the North Park five went on to win, 70-51.

Jumping to an early game lead, Joliet Junior College's basketball five outpointed Rockford Extension Illinois Tech, 65-56, in a tightly fought contest played on the Rockford floor on the twenty-third of January. This victory evened the season's count at eight wins and eight losses, with five of the triumphs coming in the last seven games.

On January 30 an underdog JC cage squad went down fighting to Wilson's battling five as the Chicagoans took a thrilling 66-62 decision on the home court.

February 2 again brought Joliet defeat, as Bob Shaw, Morton's star guard, arched a high 35-foot shot with only three seconds to play to give Morton JC a 70-69 decision over the luckless Wolves on the Cicero floor.

Jumping off to a quick six-point lead, which their opponents could not overcome, the JC cage squad broke a two-game losing streak and outpointed La Salle Peru Ogelsby JC, 54-50, on the home floor, February 7.

Wednesday night, February 11, in a rough contest played on their opponents' floor, the JC cage squad was beaten by Thornton JC, 49-34. The Wolves were cold and hit a very small percentage of their shots.

The last six games of the season were fought against weak teams, and therefore Joliet emerged victorious from four of the six games, by beating Herzl, 83-48, Lewis 39-35, Evanston, 52-30, and La Grange, 50-47. The other two games were lost to the Hawaiian All Stars, 45-38 on February 18, and to Lewis, in the last game of the season, by a 53-52 count. Thus, Joliet ended its season with a 13 won and 13 lost count, or a .500 average.

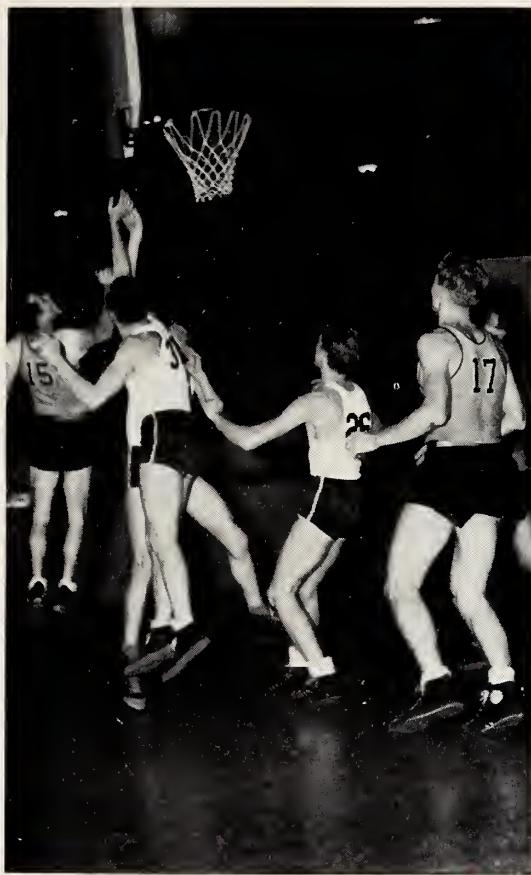

games out of the fire and his 140 points for one semester can't be overlooked.

Jack Cassidy — another mid-semester entrant, Jack alternated at the center spot and gave the team some much lacked strength under the basket. Has the aggressiveness to become quite a star next season.

Gordon Donbier—his long one-handers spelled defeat for many teams. When the freshman forward was "on" he couldn't be stopped. A great asset to any team, "Guz" was third among the scorers with 198 points.

Gene Stevens—reserve guard who filled in capably when the occasion demanded it. His fight and "swan dives" kept him in the game and made him popular with the crowd. Graduates.

Jack Pearson—tall sophomore reserve alternated at forward and center. A hard rebounder, his aggressiveness proved more valuable as the season progressed. Good on one-handers from the side.

George Eberhard—a freshman who saw a lot of action during the season. Played a steady game at guard and his experience should prove valuable to next year's team.

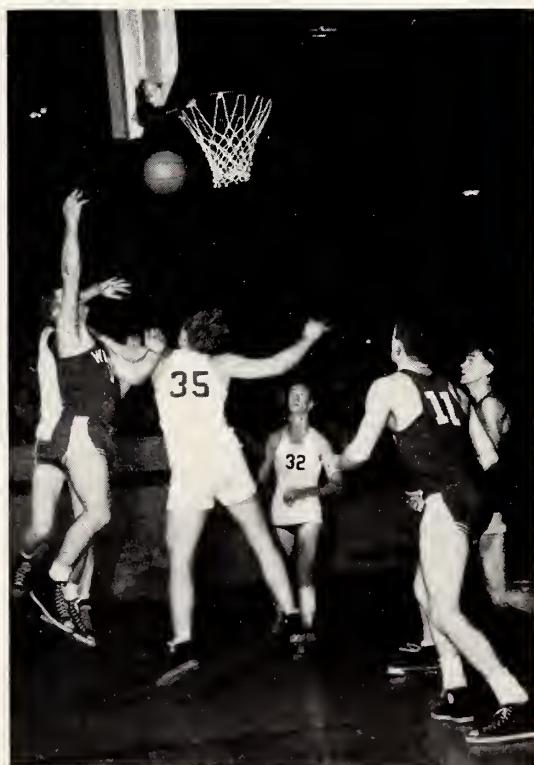

Ken Geuther—didn't find his previous season's shooting eye until near the season's end but could always be depended on as a rebounder. Filled in at center and played his best when the going was the toughest.

Justin Wagner—his managerial duties kept him busy most of the season but "Just" found time to don a uniform for the last few games. Has one semester left.

Bob Humphrey—stocky little guard played hard defensively but showed a reluctance to shooting. A clever ball handler and a spark plug, he undoubtedly will improve with experience. Returns.

Bob Massey—saw little action in his lone semester of play. A cool, determined substitute with an easy-going manner. He should prove valuable with the addition of a little speed.

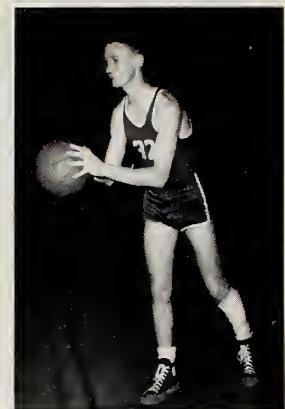

Don Muhlig — displayed some of the speed needed on the forward wall and turned in some good shooting performances near the season's end. A sophomore reserve, he was hard to stop on drive-in shots.

GOLF

The Illinois state tournament was held on October 27 at the Big Run golf course. A very rainy, dreary day limited the play to 27 holes. An exacting course anytime, Big Run was considerably tough this day. The greens were large puddles of water, with umbrellas being more valuable than birdies. The rain caused the strokes to be higher than usual.

After leading by two strokes in the morning 9 holes, Joliet surrendered the championship to Evanston Junior College. The Evanston team made a great comeback with two of its men shooting 76's. The medalist trophy went to Jardine of Evanston.

His best score was a 77 scored at both Inwood and Big Oaks golf courses. Harry alternated between the number 3 and 4 position on the team.

Bob Boyle — The only south-paw on the team, Bob was one of the best all around golfers of the group. Bob scored a 76 at Big Oaks golf course for his best round. After an opening 39 in the state meet, a putter was responsible for an 88 in the afternoon.

Ray Murphy — The steadiest player on the team, "Murph's" scores were between 79 and 82 in all his matches. An accurate iron player, Ray could always be depended on for points when they were most needed. Ray finished 6th in the state tournament, scoring 43 and 83, with a strong 37 for the last nine holes.

Dick Leser — A long drive and fine play around the greens made Dick a dangerous opponent. A great asset to the team, Dick's low round was an 83, made at Inwood.

Bill Schiek — Bill was the most improved player on the team, and his fine play soon won him a regular position. An 82 scored at Inwood was Bill's best, and his scores very seldom deviated from that figure. A deadly putter helped Bill score 136 in the state meet.

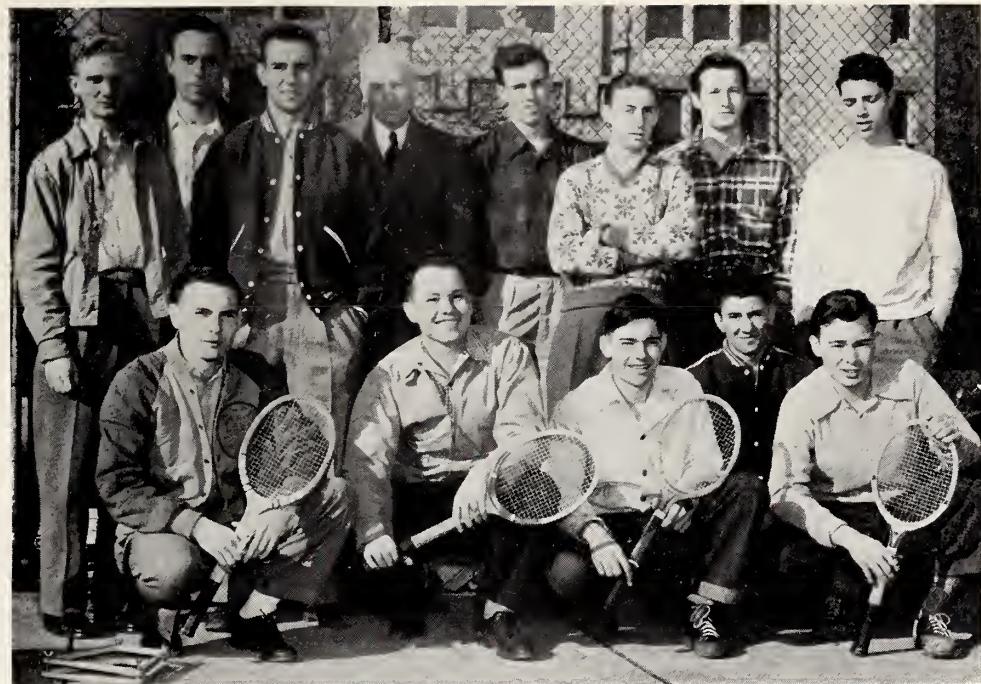

Tom Mulvey — Tom was one of the few golfers on the squad to shoot his best score away from home. A pair of 81's made at Big Oaks and Acacia Country Club were his low rounds. A terrific hitter, Tom was usually the longest driver in his foursome.

Joe Feehan — The captain of the team, Joe played in the number one position. Among his best scores were a 72 at Inwood and a 78 at Big Oaks. Joe finished in fourth place in the state tournament, combining 40 and 82 for 122 total.

Other players were Joe Aschenbrenner, Tom Locas, and Bill Werner.

TENNIS

The Joliet Junior College tennis team, coached by E. A. Larson, had immense enthusiasm this year. The first call for tennis brought out about twenty players. Included in this first call were Bill Kellenbach, only returning letterman, John Altenhoff, Elliot Walters, and Mike Sanfilippo, the latter three being transfers from the high school team.

In their first meet of the year Joliet beat Aurora, a four-year college, 3-1. Bill Kellenbach suffered the only defeat, but this was expected because he played against Bob Grable, who is one of the best tennis players around these parts.

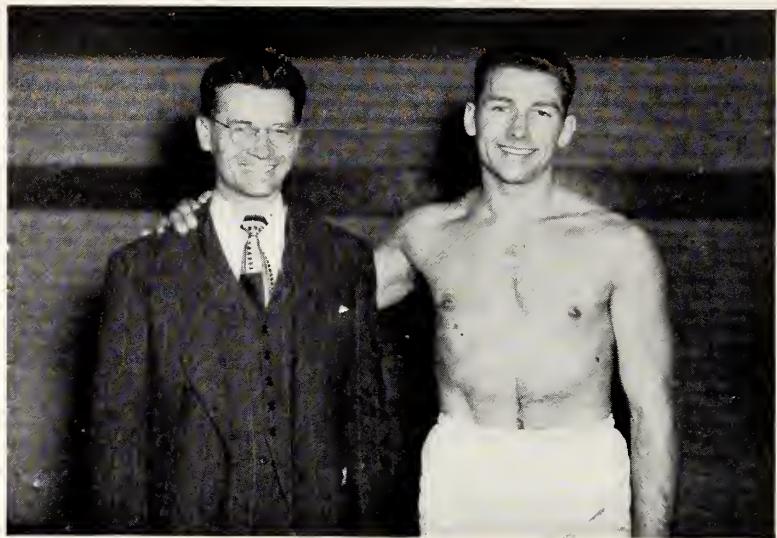

In their first conference meet Joliet trounced Herzl by a 3-0 margin. Their third meet was also victorious by the same score. Therefore, as this book goes to press, the team has as yet not suffered any defeats.

The schedule for the year is as follows:

April 20—Joliet at Herzl
April 22—Morton at Joliet
April 27—Joliet at North Park
April 29—LaGrange at Joliet
May 4—Joliet at Thornton
May 6—Morgan Park at Joliet
May 11—Joliet at Wilson
May 13—Joliet at Evanston
May 18—Wright at Joliet

The state meet will be held in Evanston on Saturday, May 15.

Organized by the swimmers themselves, the first swimming team in the history of the school placed second in the Junior College Conference and fourth in the State Meet to round out a highly successful season. The squad was under the direction of Coach Bal Longman, and Chuck Repenn was elected captain for the 1947-48 season.

The most consistent performers for the splashmen were John "Corky" Skoog in the 100 and 200 yard crawl races and Bob Mitchell in the diving. In 18 races Skoog placed first 12 times while Mitchell won 6 times in 9 attempts.

Captain Repenn, Skoog, Mitchell, and Don Muhlig formed the 160 yard crawl relay team which lost only to Wright, Illinois State Champions.

Repenn made a fine showing in the 40 and 100 yard crawl races as did Jack Pearson in the backstroke and Dick Tessiatore in the breaststroke. Pearson and Tessiatore had never competed in their respective strokes before this season. Muhlig was a point-maker in the 40 yard crawl as was Bill Hogan in the 200 yard crawl. Pearson, Tessiatore and Muhlig made up the medley relay team.

In the State Meet at Wilson the crawl relay team took second place honors, Muhlig was second in the 40 yard crawl, Mitchell was fourth in diving, Tessiatore placed fifth in the breaststroke, Pearson was fifth in the backstroke, the medley relay team took fourth, and Skoog captured third place in the 100 yard crawl and fourth in the 200 yard crawl.

Dave Givens, breaststroker, and Bill Meader, backstroker, gained needed points in early meets but were lost to the team at mid-year. Freshmen Ralph Repenn and Don Schofield saw little action but will be back next year along with Skoog, Mitchell, and Tessiatore.

QUEENS COURT

THE FALL FORMAL

QUEEN HELEN SWANSBRO

As more than 250 couples looked on, Joliet's Smeets Brothers serenaded lovely Queen Helen Jean Swansbro at the JJC "Gay Nineties" fall formal held in the combined gyms, November 28.

Climaxing several days of suspense and campaign activity it was announced by master-of-ceremonies, Harry Schoch, that the rumored "Dark Horse" candidate had received a majority vote in the student election.

A barber chair and barber pole added to the theme, but the crowning touch was a 1904 model Reo "horseless" carriage complete with dimly lighted kerosene lamps. The committee underwent a great deal of difficulty to procure the "jewel" and the barber chair.

The custom of choosing a queen, now in its second year, is becoming a tradition which many of the students hope to see carried on in years to come.

AFTER THE PLAY

The play presented by J.J.C. this year was titled "The Man Who Came to Dinner". The performance took place in the high school auditorium before a capacity audience which loudly acclaimed its approval. The play was under the direction of Miss Catherine Wood.

The cast included Helen Quist, Art Larsen, Beverly Rentschler, Paul Slocum, Betty Lou Taylor, Jim Van Dyne, Maxine Cohen, George Anast, Joan Kelsall, Dick Donahue, Sara Myers, Henry Halleland, Jay Criche, and several other bit parts.

After weeks and weeks of untiring — well, practically untiring — preparation, the big night came; and to celebrate the occasion the cast had a party after the performance at Kerwin Terrace. What a party!

The play, a broadway hit, is the story of a certain Mr. Whiteside who chose the time of a visit to break his leg and proceeded to drive everyone mad with his little idiosyncracies.

THE CAST

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

With all the gruelling experiences of last minute lost properties and quick line changing, the play was a huge success, and we give three cheers for the cast and their advisor.

Oh yes, let's not forget to congratulate the freshman Choir boys for a sweet rendition.
